People of JBER

What are some of your daily duties as a fitness center staff member?

At the Elmendorf Fitness Center, my daily duties include checking ID's, cleaning equipment, organizing events, ensuring the safety for others in the facility, maintaining the upkeep of the facility, and helping customers with questions.

What do you like the most about working for the Force Support Squadron (FSS)?

I like that within FSS I have the ability to be creative and help others, as well as coming up with ideas and plans for fitness events. I like that I am already at the gym to workout after work, and have a place to eat and take my breaks. I also like the potential to network and get to know everyone who goes to the gym or the DFAC.

How long have you been working on JBER?

I have been working on JBER a little over 3 years.

What is the coolest thing about your job?

The coolest thing about my job is always having the connections when it comes to food and fitness, especially in deployment. I like having connections with others and rotating my specialties and roles, which opens more doors for me in career advancement. Lastly, I have the chance to meet prominent members and Distinguished Visitors from all over the world.

What is your favorite thing to do this time of year?

My favorite thing this time of year is watching the snow finally melt. I like how it's socially acceptable to wear sweats everywhere here. In addition, 40 degrees finally feels warm to me and I don't have to worry too much about bears yet.

Fun facts about yourself?

I worked in an Alzheimer's Unit as a CNA before joining the military. I do a pretty good Shakira impression, created my own pasta salad recipe, and have a two-year-old daughter who is my exact replica.

Did you know... Seward, AK

Did you know that Seward received the "All America City Award" in 1963, 1965, and 2005? Situated a comfortable 3 hours away from Anchorage sits this whimsical small town. This town, which is booming with fishing commerce during the summer, also marks the beginning point of the historic Iditarod Trail. Established in 1912 and decided as the main railroad route to the Alaskan interior, Seward is a historic Alaskan city with a current average population of 2,700 people.

Nowadays, Seward is a great fishing stop and hiking locale. During the summer, hike around and on the renowned Exit Glacier, or board a whale watching tour to see Alaska's natural beauty and astounding wildlife. Fishing charters are also available throughout the summer for guests to catch salmon, rockfish, or halibut from the plentiful waters of Resurrection Bay and the northern Pacific Ocean. These catches, and the tall tales that accompany them, are sure to impress at your next dinner.

If you prefer a more localized visit, take a gander at the Alaska SeaLife Center. This celebrated facility is a conservation center focused on helping and rehabilitating sea life. Their mission is to ensure a bright future for sea life and the ecosystems they support. And if trinkets and souvenirs are your goal, Seward has no shortage of local shops filled with knickknacks, clothes, adventure gear, and handmade Alaskan products.

Don't forget to finish your Seward adventure with a delicious and picturesque dinner at one of Seward's many seafood restaurants or dives. Or stay at one of Seward's many charming local inns to continue the adventure.

Be sure to pick up the summer brochure from Information, Tickets, and Travel for a more comprehensive list of future adventures for your friends and family.

Ready to start your next adventure by visiting Seward? Book today by calling us at 753.2378 or email AFTravelAlaska@gmail.com.
