AERO CLUB

HANGAR 7, 10286 TAXI WAY #P • 907.552.5435

US Air Force Undergraduate Pilot Training (UPT)

Warfighters interested in attending UPT can apply using the US Air Force Pilot Candidate Selection Method or PCSM.

ALL application requirements can be found on the Air Force PCSM website.

One way to improve your competitiveness for UPT selection is by flying 60 hrs in a training aircraft or in an FAA approved flight simulator, which is only half the cost of our aircrafts. Both are available within hangar 10286. If interested please contact the Aero Club Manager at 907.551.7185

PCSM FAQs

- 1) Sim hours must be flown in an FAA-approved training device and logged in your logbook with a CFI's signature. JBER FTC has two FAA approved training devices.
- 2) Flying hours have now been capped at 60 hrs. Any additional hours will not increase your PCSM score.
- 3) Can I submit hours in an FAA-approved training device? Yes, these hours must be in an FAA-approved training device and logged in your logbook with a CFI signature.
- 4) Hours in an FAA-approved training device are now equivalent to actual flying hours (up to 60 hrs).

Benefits of simulators beyond improving candidates' UPT selection competitiveness:

- 1) Accelerated Learning: Students can solo in about half the time compared to traditional methods due to simulator training.
- 2) Cost-Effective: Simulators help reduce the reliance on actual flight hours, leading to cost savings.
- 3) Enhanced Safety: They allow students to practice emergency procedures and challenging scenarios without real-world risks.
- 4) Realistic Environment: Simulators provide a high level of realism, enabling students to familiarize themselves with the operational environment.
